

On-The-Go Meal Kits

Make sure a family never misses a meal

Families staying at the Ronald McDonald House, as well as all families with a child in the intensive care units at MUSC often don't have the time, funds or energy to prepare a quick meal before heading to the hospital. The On-the-Go Meal Kits will serve this inconvenience and will allow the Ronald McDonald House to meet the family's nutritional needs. Additionally, it will help us expand our services to all families who have children in the intensive care units, not just the families at the House. This is a great volunteer opportunity for large groups to get together and assemble these meal kits for families to use in their time of need.

How can your group go about making these meal kits?

The Ronald McDonald House will provide you with the Meal Bags. Your group is then responsible for filling the bags with non-perishable items. There should be no products that require a refrigerator, freezer, or can-opener. Microwavable items are fine. The meal kits should include a main entrée, side, plastic utensils, and a beverage. Please write the expiration date of your earliest expired item on the bottom of your bags.

Your group is also encouraged to write inspirational quotes on the bags and to include small activities. Because many families have different beliefs, we ask that you or your group refrain from religious messages. It is, however, acceptable to include a message saying, "We'll keep you in our prayers."

Once the meal kits are made, they should be dropped off to the Ronald McDonald House. You can deliver the bags at any time! The staff and volunteers at the House will then distribute the kits to the 27 families staying at the House, and then also to all the families over at MUSC whose children are in the intensive care units.
